CUBAN REPRESENTATIVES

Comment on the President's Message.
Think Time Has Arrived for the Intervention of the United States.

American interests, humanity and civilization will demand forcible intervention. As Captain General Blanco himself admits that the Cubans in arms will not accept autonomy, the time the President speaks of has arrived.

"It will be noticed that the President does not even suggest the acceptance of autonomy by the Cubans, and it is evident be would not have written the last center of the company of the president of the surface of th leved that autonomy would bring peace to Cuba."

Mr. Henjamin Giberga, formerly a merchant of this city, but at present connected with the Cuban delegation, and a brother of Senor Eliseo Giberga, the Cuban senator, said to a reporter:

"The granting of autonomy to Cuba by Spain proclaims to the world the justice of the Cuban rebellion and the right the Cubans had to appeal to arms, since only through force would Spain have been compelled to grant to Cuba what is but a mere semblance of home rule. But it is now too late even for the most ample form of autonomy, which is not what Spain is ready to concede. Spain's autonomy will be such in name only and for the exclusive use of the residents of the ports and of the few interior towns held by the Spaniards. The Cuban patriots now in arms, who are the only ones to decide, will never accept autonomy; they have declared it time and again; they are fighting for absolute independence and the offer of autonomy they consider a plain avowal by Spain that her cause is lost, "At the beginning of the war, when Marshal Marthez Campos suggested absolute independence and the one-ofautonomy they consider a plain avowal by Spain that her cause is lost,

"At the beginning of the war, when Marshal Martinez Campos suggested reforms for Cuba, a prominent Madrid newspaper replied to film, voleing publie opinion, that they would send to Cuba 'not reforms but guns.' General Weyler was sent soon after to Cuba to carry out the policy then in vogue.
Now, when all Spaniards see Spain's cause is irrevocably lost, as she has no money and no credit, no more men to send to Cuba and is threatened with a Carlist war at home, besides that waged against her in the Philippines, they are exceedingly anxious for the Cubans to accept autonomy. Why did they refuse it before? Because they considered themselves sivong and invincible. Why do they offer it now?
Because they are convinced of their defeat. This is a signal victory for the Cuban army, since through force Spain concedes at present-what she formerly refused to grant willingty.
"Spain desires to end the war in Cuba quickly, but she can only do so by acknowledging the independence of the island. Never before was Cuba so strong as she is now. Spain has never been so weak since the war began. It

TO MARRY THEMSELVES.

Novel Ceremony to be Performed at the Friends' Meeting House.

At the Orthodox Friends' Meeting House, in East Twentieth Street, New there is to occur on the morning December 15, a ceremony such as as not occurred in New York in half a century, it is said. It will be a wedding, at which the ceremony will be that of the Society of Priends in the time of George Fox, Jonathan Evans, and Lucretia Mott. The principals marry themselves to each other. They are Edith Haydock, daughter of Saare Edith Haydock, daughter of Sarah A. Haydock, a minister of the society, and Richard Hobson. The former came some time since from Dublin Yearly Meeting. In Ireland, England and among orthodox and, to some extent, Hicksife Friends in Philadelphia, the old Quaker marriage form still prevails. It has not been performed in a New York meeting house in fifty years bethaps longer and is not used by Friends throughout New England and ids throughout New England and against its piblicy, because if allowed to stand it would turn wheat marketing all this way. So the price fell back to $75\text{sc} for the one and $59\text{sc} for the other. Before the regular session commenced the feeling was nominally weak because of a decline of $4\text{at Liverpool} and $4\text{sc} at Paris. Northwestern receipts were also considerably larger than last year, but nearly 300 cars less than Tuesday of last week, the arrivals to-day being 704 cars, against 482 last year and 1,040 ast Tuesday. The trade has in mind two stirring facts, however, one that the alleged big buildique had been a big buyer of calls Monday afternoon and the morning papers told of freight room being engaged at Boston for 4.500.000 bushels of wheat for January and February shipment. This was construed to mean that when the line of December wheat was deliyered to the buildique here it would ship it abroad by all rail or the seabord if the water route was closed. It was semi-officially given out that the short line for December in the market was over 11,000,000 bushels, with less than 3,000,000 bushels of contract in store here to-day. To-day's stock market displayed noteworthy strength throughout the day and the demand for stocks was broader and more widely diffused throughout the list than has been the case in a long time. There was hestancy at the opening, probably induced by the lower prices from London, and some of the stocks which developed most aggressive strength later showed small losses at the opening. This was notably true of the case of Louisville and Atchison preferred. The early strength in the market was in fact, notably in the specialties. store here to-say, any was was supported at 89%c, the enormous export clearings, 738,000 bushels of wheat and 68,320 barrels of flour, an equivalent of 1,032,000 bushels of wheat, tending to create nervousness on the part of the shorts, and a report that France would yet require 50,000,000 bushels of outside wheat was not calculated to allay this feeling. Primary receipts at western points were 3150,000 bushels, but the shipments were also large, 81,000 bushels, 600,000 of it from Duluth, all at the latter point having been sold to Chicago elvator men, eastern shippers and exporters. At 12 o'clock May was 390, December 59½c, Up to within 15 minutes of the close the market heid very firm with narrow trading. Efforts were then made to break the price below calls, and May was sent down to 89%c, closing at 89%c. Corn was dull but firm all day, mathylin sympathy with wheat. Offerings were more moderate and the demand from shorts more general, which Rept prices a fraction higher most of the session. There was some buying in expectation of a reaction after the recent decline. Receipts were liberal, 654 cars. The visible supply figures were corrected to read 1,209,000 bushels decrease, instead of 2,169,000, as officially announced yesterday. Clearances were 610,000 bushels. The close was easier, following the little break in wheat near the end. May ranged from 25% 6728%c closing a shade lower at 25% 6728%c, closing a shade lower at 25% 6728%c.

holding their gains most firmly. Burlington advanced at one time a point, but reacted before the close and the gangers and western stocks did not compare favorably in strength with those in the southern region, which today legan to feel the influence of the remarkable showing of gains in gross earnings for the fourth week in November, which had been reported during the week by the roads in that region. Even Northern Pacific did not respond as readily; though its preferred stock gains a point net on a fourth week statement that shows an increase in carnings over the corresponding week last year of $384,70, which is only a shade leas than 160 per cent. The comparison, however, is with a week of not very large earnings last year. The statement for November of New York Central was regarded as disappointing the increase being only $78,000, as comparings list year. Great Northern for November showed an increase of $336,138 and Illinois Central $664,861. The market was helped also by the dividend declarations announced to-day and those in prospect. The street was full of rumors regarding the dividend on Sugar, but no authoritative announcement accompanied any of them. The action of the market reflected very distinctly the large and aggressive operations of manipulative ecombinations, and there was very little outside interest manifested in the stock division of the market, London, besides marking down prices before the opening here, sold stocks very persistently in this market, notably St. Paul.

The bond market continued to reflect a very wide and varied inquiry and continually broadening demand. Some sharp gains were recorded during the day and prices in all cases were higher. PHILADELPHIA—Wheat firm and Breadisma and Provisions.

CHICAGO—Outside of a sensational spurt in December wheat, which took place shortly after the opening, grain and provisions were duil and uninteresting to-day. A jump of 3c in December on an attempt to buy about 15,000 bushels, strengthened the belief that that option is very securely "cornered." It closed 2½c higher. May was firm all day and closed 5½G-½c higher. Corn and oats closed fairly steady at substantially yesterday's prices, and provisions closed a shade lower all around. Wheat started off in a whirl of excitement. Opening sales of both Decemberand May were at practically last night's closing figures—96c for the one, 89c for the other. It soon developed that there was some December wheat wanted, undoubtedly to fill shorts, with none offering. On this account the price advances at once. December got to 59c, and May to 904c in the first fifteen minutes of the session. The alleged bull clique stopped the advance by selling only a small lot, less than 16,000 bushels, the big premium over May, about 90c per bushel, being against its philicy, because if allowed to stand it would turn wheat marketings all this way. So the price fell back to 57½c for the one and 85%c for the other, the other.
